Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) – Memberships

- 1) I am a licensed nurse practitioner (NP) in Canada. Does this mean I am a member of the Nurse Practitioner Association of Canada (NPAC)?
No, licensure as a NP with a regulatory college in Canada does not include membership with NPAC.
- 2) Does registration with the Canadian Nurses Association (CNA) mean I'm a member of the Nurse Practitioner Association of Canada (NPAC)?
No, registration with the CNA does not include membership with NPAC.
- 3) I am a member of the New Brunswick, Newfoundland and Labrador, Nova Scotia or Prince Edward Island NP Association. What does this mean with regard to NPAC membership?
If you are a member of one of these four NP Associations in the Maritime provinces, you are automatically a member of the NPAC as the Maritime NP associations partnered with NPAC to offer block membership.
- 4) Outside of the Maritimes, is NPAC membership paid through provincial associations?
No, NPs must sign-up individually for membership with NPAC if they live in the following provinces or territories: British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, Yukon, Northwest Territories, or Nunavut.
- 5) How do I become a member?
To become a member, please click on the category that best applies to you on this page.

- 6) What are the different membership types available through the NPAC?
The four different types are Regular, Associate, Honorary Life, and Block membership (maritime provinces only). To learn more about these, please visit our website.
- 7) How long is my membership valid for from the time I join the NPAC?
Regular and Associate memberships are valid for one year from the initial (re)registration date. Block membership expiration dates vary by province. These expire on the set renewal date for the block, regardless of when individual members register. Honorary Life memberships do not expire.
- 8) Does my membership auto-renew once it expires?
At this time, we are not able to support membership auto-renewals once they expire. All returning members must renew their NPAC every year through our member portal.
- 9) I cannot remember if I am an active member of the NPAC. How can I check my membership status?
You can check if you are an active member of the NPAC by logging into the member portal with the email you used to sign-up. Click on your name on the upper right corner, "My Account", then the "Membership" tab to view your membership status.
- 10) I do not have NPAC membership and cannot log into the member portal. What does this mean?
This means that you are not a member of the NPAC. To join, please click on the category that best applies to you on this page.
